

A hand-drawn Valentine's card featuring a central yellow heart with a textured, brush-stroke appearance. Inside the heart, the words "felic" and "Sant Valentí" are written in a black, cursive script. The heart is surrounded by numerous short, black, radiating lines, giving it a glowing effect. The entire composition is set against a white background with scattered black dots and speckles. At the top and bottom of the card, there are decorative, flowing black lines. Below the heart, there are two curved, leafy branches drawn in black ink.
